

MSOPE introduces the Spring 2013 series of leadership trainings in Prague

Prague, 1. 3. 2013 – Management School of Process Excellence (MSOPE) introduced the spring 2013 training season in Prague.

„I am proud to introduce the spring season of leadership trainings in Prague with 15 training courses designed for our customers in Central Europe. Our motto to for the launch is ‚Sustainability through Success and Satisfaction‘“, said Kamil Jaros, MSOPE business leader of the CE region.

Prague an ideal choice for MSOPE, allowing attendants to combine their advanced professional training with an extended stay in the historical city centre during the beautiful spring period. „We want not only to train our clients how to become successful leaders. We want to inspire them to become likeable, amiable and happy individuals“, said Jaros, who is also an ICF certified coach.

The courses are delivered in English and simultaneously interpreted into the Czech language. The series will start on April 8th with the Project Management, opening the Sales Excellence on 22nd April with the famous ‚Breakaway Selling‘ course delivered by Petter Bakken and celebrating the Operational Excellence with the outstanding course by Marc Baruch called the ‚Lean Six Sigma for Process Excellence‘.

The international management training series designed by Charles Anres to develop individuals towards international managers capable of leading global business transformations will run from 13 May till 28 June in five practical parts.

„Being a manager is not a goal, it is not a result, it is a path, a lifelong learning path. On this path there are people that will come with you, people that will leave... You will dance with these people; every action creates a reaction, for the good or for the bad, but each of these people will teach you something. Come to MSOPE to walk this path much quicker - do the right things and learn faster“, says Charles Anres, who has coached over 1700 individuals, from employees through to senior VPs.

The training calendar along with the catalog is available for download from the MSOPE internet site as well as from the pages of Jaros Consulting Ltd, representing MSOPE in the Czech Republic.

About MSOPE

Management School of Process Excellence (www.MSOPE.eu) is an educational platform grouping unique trainers, senior managers and proven business leaders recruited from the Learning and Development and business management team of Hewlett-Packard Europe, Middle East and Africa.

Our members are based in four European cities - Geneva, Lyon, Oslo and Prague, where we deliver proven leadership trainings in the International Management, Sales Motivation, Communication, Customer Service, Lean Six Sigma Operational Excellence and Business Transformation to our European clients.

Our training courses are extended by professional coaching programs to support individuals and teams in their successful development.

Our typical customers are international companies focusing on the ultimate effectiveness and sustainability in their business, but also individuals who simply want to grow faster in their professional career.

About Jaros Consulting

Jaros Consulting Ltd. (www.jarosconsulting.com) provides turnkey services to international companies in the Extended Enterprise Management throughout Europe, including advisory, process improvement and activity outsourcing. We improve their business effectiveness and customer satisfaction through achieved operational excellence.